I was calling to update about the truck protest. If you have a minute can you call me.

Mon, Feb 7, 5:50 PM

Just on call with Deputy Prime Minister and other mayors. All good?

Sorry I just got this, not sure why my phone is not notifying me today. I just got an update from Jason. They have now blocked SB all 3 lanes

We are looking to take action, heading out with tow trucks and fire re: burn barrels. Looks like they might want to stay a bit

I will give you more updates as I receive them

Regional Director of CBSA called...Christine Durocher. She asked for your cell which I gave her.
FYI

Mon, Feb 7, 9:08 PM

We are moving our operations to the EOC novsignificantvevent, just makes sense to do so while we can and in case
this ramps up in the morning.

Ok Ty

We have settled into EOC. About 200 demonstrators. I had bad info re: tow and tickets they were going to tow, but protestors cooperated so they unhooked and gave warnings for a few other traffic violations. We have 4 OPP heading down for morning to assist with situation. We have coons on site so our communications should be better with public aoina forward. The bridge is clear and we are advising public to divert to Bluewater.

Omg, autocorrect just killed me, we have
COMMS on site

On site at EOC

FYI we are negotiating potential release of all NB lanes but they continue blocking all SB lanes into Canada. It would be no loss on the SB but gain on the NB. They may renege but it will just mean back to square one. Info only fir you at this time.

FYI we asked U of W to give us some space to stage/ rest officers who are on ground at College

FYI we asked U of W to give us some space to stage/ rest officers who are on ground at College since college st fire station is small. They said no.

Holy F

NB traffic is flowing. We are going to tweet out soon

Excellent

Who said no to you re U of W

It looks like they reconsidered and called just moments ago to say they could help out

CORRECTION [REDACTED]
is meeting with his boss, name unknown to see if they will reconsider.

U of W now on board.
Thank you if you had a hand in that. No other changes. Still shut down in both directions. About 100 cars, 200 people
give or take. I cant do Tony Doucette in morning so Jason will be on at 7:10am.

Good to hear

The u of w will help. I was really surprised they said no

To begin with

I think our request was misinterpreted by the U of W. I was surprised as well, but glad it is resolved.

We need to make an official request to Province and Feds for the 100 officers.

At least you'd have the request in and cover your bases.

There was a meeting with the Ministers staff tonight and they want a request in writing. FYI

Okay. I will have Jason C work on it overnight.

For your information only, we have regained control over all NB lanes. We are NOT advising media or notifying public at this time as we don't want trucks diverting back to Windsor as it might cause us some problems in the morning. We will be negotiating for flow in both directions in the Matters not to me

If you think that is better in haha pay to sign

I'm happy to sign is what it was supposed to say

Lol glad I am not the only one with autocorrect
issues

No need for you to sign. It will be short and sweet asking for officers and tow trucks. The financial

Just in case you hear before I call, the situation is changing at the bridge.
Once I get an update I will advise. Not for the good.

Ok
